Ulster Rugby and the IRFU are seeking to appoint a highly experienced and accomplished professional to strategically lead and direct the management of all aspects of professional and domestic rugby in Ulster.

Ulster Rugby is the only sporting organisation which operates a full-time professional team in Northern Ireland. It is a not-for-profit organisation with all revenues generated being reinvested to support the growth and development of rugby, both amateur and professional, across the province. Ulster Rugby's commercial revenues are on a par with some of the biggest club rugby teams across the UK and Ireland, with over 50 of Northern Ireland's Top 100 companies involved as official supporting partners and sponsors.

The CEO will develop and oversee the implementation of the ambitious plans and programmes that are consistent with the strategic objectives of the IRFU and Ulster Rugby. The successful candidate will also be required to provide inspirational and strong leadership for the overall game throughout the province.

We expressly wish to hear from dynamic and visionary leaders with a unique blend of commercial acumen alongside a passion to protect and promote the values, spirit and prominence of rugby throughout Ulster. The successful candidate will possess a proven ability to develop a strategic vision and translate it into a coherent business plan, coupled with the leadership excellence and capability required to steer an organisation through a complex and dynamic political and economic environment.
